

PRAYER AT THE SENDING OUT OF THE EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS TO THE SICK AND HOUSEBOUND

Priest: Almighty and loving Father, as we have received your Son in this Holy Eucharist, we ask you to hear our prayer for our brothers and sisters:

All: Give your healing, Lord, to those who are sick and housebound. May those who take the Body of Christ to them also be a loving sign of our prayers and thoughts. Keep us united with them in all their sufferings so that we will grow together as one community with the presence of Christ among us.

Hail, holy Queen, Mother of mercy,
hail, our life, our sweetness and our hope.
To thee do we cry, poor banished children of Eve:
to thee do we send up our sighs,
mourning and weeping in this vale of tears.
Turn then, most gracious Advocate, thine eyes of mercy toward us,
and after this our exile, show unto us
the blessed fruit of thy womb, Jesus,
O clement, O loving, O sweet Virgin Mary! Amen.

Lord, teach me to be generous.
Teach me to serve you
as you deserve;
to give and not to count the cost,
to fight
and not to heed the wounds,
to toil and not to seek for rest,
to labour and not to ask
for reward,
save that of knowing that I do
your will.

FEAST THIS WEEK: THURS 10TH MARCH ST JOHN OGILVIE Born in Banffshire, John Ogilvie was raised in the Calvinist tradition and was sent abroad to be educated. During a period of spiritual contemplation, he converted to Catholicism and was ordained a Jesuit priest. Despite the risk of preaching in a reformed Protestant Scotland, he returned, disguised as a horse trader. Executed for the Faith 10 March 1615 when he was hanged at Glasgow Cross. “That evening his prayers were disturbed by the construction of the scaffold, in preparation for execution. When he faced the refined dignitaries he wore an ill-fitting, short coat that was torn under the arm. His gaoler, the one inclined to use force without pity, appropriated his ‘good’ coat. What need would the Jesuit have for it?”

Pope Francis Spoke out against exploitation and unfair wages for workers this week, “Please, take your cheque back and burn it. “The people of God – that is, the Church – don’t need dirty money. They need hearts that are open to God’s mercy. God wants people to turn away from evil and do what is just, not cover up their sins with gestures of sacrifice. Just as God derives no pleasure from “the blood of bulls and lambs” slaughtered in his name, he is especially averse to offerings from hands dirty with the blood of another human being. “I think of some Church benefactors who come with an offering, and sometimes that offering is the “fruit of the blood of many people, who are exploited, mistreated, enslaved by poorly paid work”. I would tell these donors to go away because God wants sinners “with purified hands” who have changed course, avoid evil and work for what is good and just, like aiding the oppressed and defending the weak. I am thinking of many, many refugees who are landing in Europe and don’t know where to go. Pope Francis 2nd March 2016

Mum, what's it like to have the greatest daughter in the world? I don't know dear... You'll have to ask grandma. What Mothers of famous children said to them COLUMBUS'S MOTHER: I don't care what you've discovered, Christopher. You could have written. MICHELANGELO'S MOTHER: Mike, can't you paint on walls like other children? Do you have any idea how hard it is to get that stuff off the ceiling? NAPOLEON'S MOTHER: All right, Napoleon. If you aren't hiding your report card inside your jacket, then take your hand out of there and prove it. GOLDBLOCKS'S MOTHER: I've got a bill here for a broken chair from the Bear family. Do you know anything about this Goldie? ALBERT EINSTEIN'S MOTHER: But, Albert, it's your senior picture. Can't you do something about your hair? Styling gel, mousse, something...? HUMPTY DUMPTY'S MOTHER: Humpty, If I've told you once, I've told you a hundred times not to sit on that wall. But would you listen to me? No!
